The Log of 1928
P.H.S.

If, in years to come, a glance at this Log serves to call some member of the crew of '28 back to his Alma Mater, there to relive happy days, to think again of his disappointments and successes, and to renew old friendships, this book will have served its purpose.

ALMA MATER

Plainfield, we revere thee,
We honor thy name,—
Years, passing, endear thee,
And add to thy fame.
Wherever thou lead-est
We'll follow thee true—
Our banner victorious,
Noble Red and Blue—
Whate'er be the conflict
We'll carry it through!

So, onward advancing,
E'er striving for thee,
Thy sons, never failing,
Still loyal will be.
Thine honor defending,
Firm, faithful, and true;
Thy banner unfurling—
Glorious Red and Blue—
Whate'er be the conflict
We'll carry it through!

Dedication

To Miss Paul

Our true friend and constant guide, we, the class of 1928, respectfully dedicate this year book, The Log.

EXTRACT FROM THE VALEDICTORY ADDRESS

Classmates: Tonight, we are celebrating a most important occasion—the end of our four years' association together in Plainfield High School.

Though we must leave all that has been dear to us here—our teachers, our school, and our friends, we are happy in the memory of our years together in work and play. We are proud of the honor and name of our school. We rejoice in the accomplishment of tasks well done.

Rich in the ideals we have learned here and inspired by ambition and enthusiasm, we are now going out to a new and greater field of work. With the zeal of the old explorers, and the spirit of our recent heroes of the air, let us go forward into new experience "to strive, to seek, to find, and not to yield."

—FRANCES WELLS

EXTRACT FROM THE SALUTATORY ADDRESS

This evening is without doubt the happiest that we have yet experienced during our four years in the Plainfield High School. As a class we wish to share this happiness with you, and to extend a most cordial welcome to all of our dear friends here tonight—to the Board of Education; to our Superintendent, Mr. Cook; to our ever-helpful Principal, Mr. Best; to our Faculty, who have guided us so faithfully through our school course; to the Speaker of the evening; and to you, good friends of Plainfield.

We can in no way fully express our deep appreciation of your never-failing interest and practical support. We can only hope to prove ourselves worthy of such interest by using it to the best of our ability.

—DOROTHY M. WESTERN

Class Poem

*Our weather-beaten ship glides into port;
The journey ends, although 'tis not for long;
We must sail on, brave seamen, on and on;
Each one his trusty comrade, hail, exhort.
Weigh anchor, come, we cannot, dare not stay;
We sail again for dim, far-distant shores,
To ports unknown again we ply our oars;
Each man this time the Captain of his fate.*

*Then farewell, mates, again we must be borne
On Time's fast-flowing tide to drift;
Gleams that untraveled world whose borders fade
As on we sail; indeed, 'tis God's own gift,
That we should ever sail on unafraid,
Prepared for Life's unending, ceaseless storms.*

—LEWIS SCHLOSS.

FOOTBALL 1927

The football season of 1927 will go down in history as very unusual and successful. When the first call for candidates was sounded, only two letter men were in school. It was estimated that some twenty big boys were missing that were counted on when the schedule was made.

But in the two letter men that did report, Coach Stine had two champions, namely Capt. Bart Viviano and "Moonie" Kline. Bart proved himself an exceptional leader in every respect. He led the entire State in scoring and was honored by being placed on the All-State high school team at full back. "Moonie" Kline outplayed his opponent in every game and was an outstanding player throughout the season. Several leading coaches in the State considered him as their choice for All-State centre. His teammates honored him with the captaincy for 1928.

The team completed the season with a very creditable showing of seven victories, two defeats and one tie. The scores are noted below:

Somerville	0	P. H. S.	20	Phillipsburg	0	P. H. S.	6
Summit	0	"	6	East Orange ...	6	"	36
Montclair	6	"	6	N. P. H. S.....	0	"	13
Trenton	6	"	0	New Brunswick	14	"	0
Neptune	10	"	19	Battin	0	"	12

Plainfield won the Class A county championship on Thanksgiving Day by defeating Battin, 12 to 0, in a sea of mud. Battin presented a line-up which was considered the best in years. The players easily outweighed our team 15 pounds to a man. The P. H. S. line played its best game and was the talk of the day. Not one first down was registered by Battin throughout the entire game.

It was a case of entering each game with the result always in question. The team played one game at a time, not pointing to any particular game.

H. A. STINE.

BASKETBALL, 1928

The basketball season of 1928, although a disappointment in several cases, may well be considered a successful one. The team played a schedule of eighteen games, nine of which were won and nine lost. We succeeded in defeating Battin, East Orange, East Side and Neptune, but Trenton, New Brunswick, Passaic and Asbury Park proved too much for us. It is interesting to note in this respect that three of these teams reached the State semi-finals at Camden. The high spot of the year may well be considered the city series, both games of which were won by decisive margins. In these two contests the boys played a very fine brand of real basketball, and clearly showed their superiority both in team play and in shooting.

If we are to judge a season by the number of games won, ours cannot be considered excellent by any means, but success is not confined to victory. We succeeded in establishing a spirit of co-operation and team play which should count well for us in the future. Of the eight men on the Varsity team, five will return next year. Our reserve team uncovered some very good talent which should by another season be able to fill the places left vacant through graduation. Unless unexpected difficulties arise, next year should be a good one, not only in the type of game played, but also in the number of victories won.

—B. WOODHULL DAVIS

BASEBALL

The popularity of this sport has increased more than 100% over last year in numbers. To date 96 boys are taking part on nine organized teams. The Varsity schedule consists of sixteen games with the strongest teams in the state, a reserve team schedule of six games, a Freshman schedule of five games and a class series with six different classes taking part. This makes up one of the busiest baseball seasons that the Athletic Association ever attempted. The letter-men left in school from last year's team are as follows: Captain Paul Greenwood, E. Kline, M. Thompson, B. Viviano, M. Colucci, J. Siergiej, E. Bozack, L. Donzalski, and the manager in charge is William Spreen. The schedule is as follows:

Plainfield High School Baseball Schedule, Season of 1928

TRACK

The interest shown in Track for the present year is very encouraging to all concerned.

Over 100 candidates have reported to the Coach who has laid out one of the most interesting and strongest schedules that has ever been attempted. It consists of a Decathlon open to all members of the Track squad, which ran for a period of one week and brought out great results to the Coach. We can report at this time the following winners: First, Dan Jensen; second, Bob Burgard, and third, Herb. Cragin. An informal Triangular Meeting was held with Rutgers and New Brunswick High School on April 26. The Inter-class meet was held on April 30 with the following results: Juniors, 91½ points; Seniors, 72½ points; 9A and 9B, 17½ points, and Sophomores, 14½ points.

Asbury Park comes here on May 4 for a meet and on the 11th of May there is a Triangular Meet with Glen Ridge and Montclair away. On the 16th we have a Triangular Meet with Summit and Morristown away; the annual Union County Field Day on May 18; and then on the 21st there is a meet with Battin High School here. On the 26th is the Annual Rotary Club Meet, and on May 29 the meet with South Orange here. The season closes with the more prominent members of the team taking part in the State Meet on June 2.

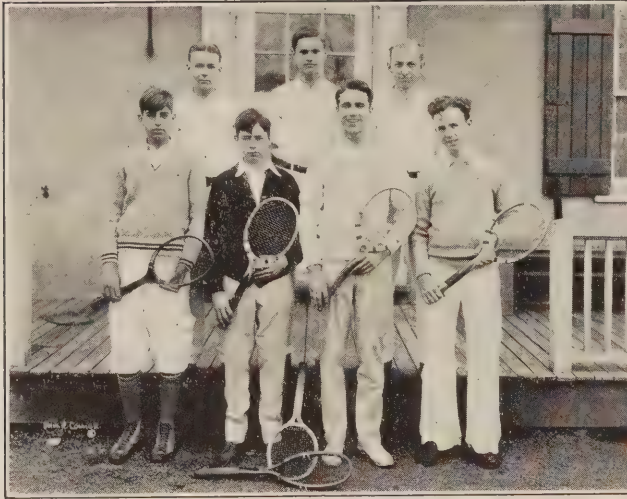

We have prospects of several of the school's records being broken by this year's track squad.

SWIMMING

A resume of the swimming season for this year shows that Plainfield held a total of eight dual meets with opposing teams, and also sent a five-man team to Trenton to represent Plainfield in the State meet. While only three of the dual meets were won by Plainfield, it is interesting to note that only one high school defeated us. Swimming is rapidly becoming a recognized school sport, and it is hoped that in the future Plainfield will be able to have a schedule with more high schools on the list. Captain Hopkins was the high individual scorer of the team with a total of 48 points, while the relay team placed in the State meet. The prospects for next year are about average, for while we are losing Hopkins, Viviano, Angleman, Hildum and Morrison, Captain-elect Crane will have Terry, Pierson, Cragin and Gerdson, as a nucleus for a new year.

—H. H. BANTA, Coach

TENNIS

The outlook of this season is very encouraging. Among the candidates on the squad are the following letter-men of last year: Captain Dick Riley, Jack Wilmot, Ormsbee Robinson, William Reed, Dan Orcutt and Emil Wich.

HOCKEY

For the first time in many years, Plainfield High School was represented by an ice hockey team. The results of the four games played are as follows:

Plainfield.....	0	Rahway.....	1
Plainfield.....	0	New Brunswick.	0
Plainfield.....	0	New Brunswick.....	0
Plainfield.....	0	Rahway.....	1

THE DEBATING TEAM

RESUME OF DEBATING

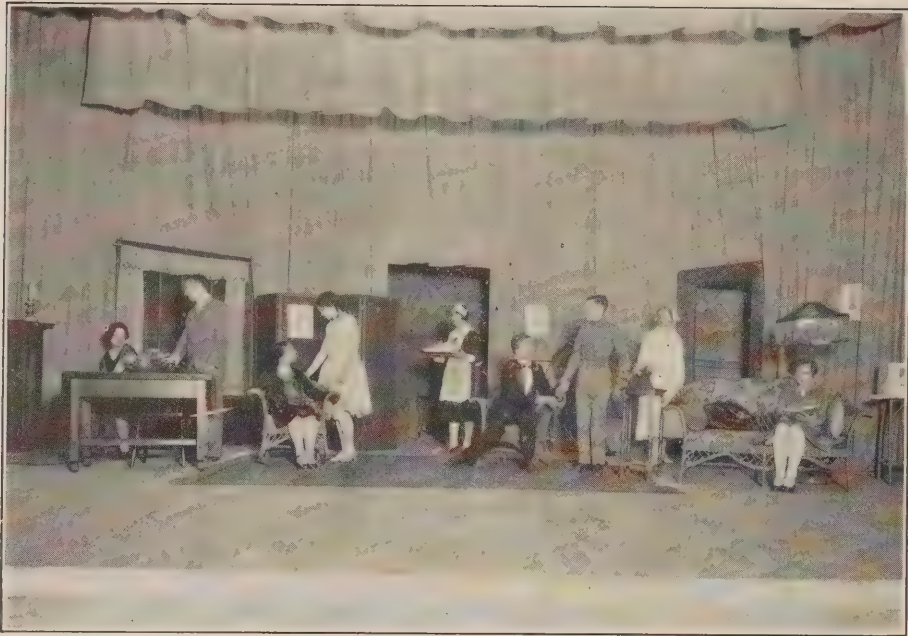

This year's debating teams, though not quite so successful as last year's, did very well.

The contestants of the Triangular Debate were, as usual, Plainfield, Westfield, and Morristown. In order that each team might debate on neutral territory, a new system was inaugurated. The entire student bodies of all three schools were forced to attend, and the Senior class of each school acted as judges. The question was: Resolved: That there shall be a Federal Department of Education, with a Secretary on the President's Cabinet.

Plainfield's affirmative team, including Janet Miller, Edith Ramsing, Benedict Bernstein, captain, and Lyman White, alternate, defeated Morristown almost unanimously.

Our negative team including Helen McLaughlin, Trowbridge Sweet, Benjamin Tepper, captain, and Lewis Schloss, alternate, was defeated by only seven votes.

The Westfield teams won at both Plainfield and Morristown.

THE SENIOR PLAY

Of course Plainfield High's Senior plays are always exceptional, but in our Senior play, the class of '28 gave a performance that overshadowed most of its predecessors. We selected James Barrie's drama, "Alice-Sit-By-the-Fire."

Katherine Koch displayed unusual dramatic talent, adding her own charm to that of Barrie's most charming heroine, "Alice Grey," a gay belle of the Penjaub.

Her husband, a good-natured old colonel was interpreted with much dignity by our talented DeHart Krans.

Virginia Campbell took the role of their sixteen-year-old daughter, Amy, who thought she was so worldly-wise, and was in truth so innocent.

Amy's devoted companion and adviser, Ginevra, was acted with great trueness of character by Naomi Eaton.

Little Frederick Wright fitted to perfection both the part and the uniform of Amy's younger brother, Cosmo.

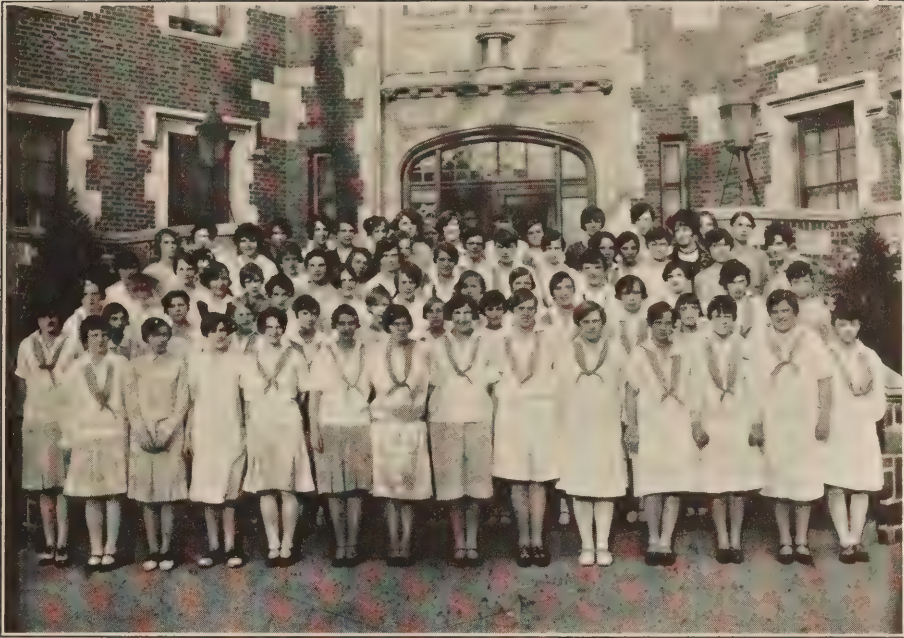

Trowbridge Sweet made a most lovable bachelor who tried his best to be a villain.

Evelyn Farland, as the bachelor's maid, supplied the comedy in the second act and showed just how cute and clever she could be.

Elizabeth Egan appeared in the first act as the nurse who jealously guarded baby Molly from her mother.

The housekeeper, Edith Naidorff, performed her usual duties with much ease and efficiency.

Baby Molly cried and laughed offstage in the person of Florence Egan.

HI-TRI

The Girl Reserve Club of Plainfield, Hi-Tri, is an organization of the Y.W.C.A. to which every High School girl is invited to belong. By its ideals it strives to establish high physical, social, mental, and spiritual standards. This year we have had a varied program of business and social meetings which have been supplemented by a Fashion Show, Song Contest, Dinner Dance, Teachers' Banquet, Musical Vaudeville, and World Fellowship Project. Our national purpose is "to find and give the best," and our local "to make real in the life of every girl the beauty and purpose of living." The club has doubled its membership this past year. Seventy-four awards were given to girls who have succeeded in living up to our aims.

The Cabinet members are:

President: ROBERTA C. LA VIE
Vice-President: SOPHIE DICKSON
Secretary: ISABEL MORRISON
Treasurer: MYRA SHOTWELL
Supper Chairman: ELIZABETH EGAN
Service Chairman: MARGARET SPRAWL
World Fellowship Chairman: JANET MILLER
Social Chairman: DORIS RHODS
Program Chairman: KATHERINE KOCH
Publicity Chairman: GEORGIANA BRADBURY

HI-Y

The Hi-Y Club is a group of High School boys whose object is to maintain in school and community the high standard of Christian character which is typified by their slogan, "Clean living, clean speech, clean sports, and clean scholarship." They meet at the Y. M. C. A. for a supper meeting every Thursday evening during the school year. Membership is open to any Junior or Senior of North Plainfield or Plainfield High School who is invited to join by a member, and whose application is voted on favorably by the executive committee.

The Hi-Y program during the past school year was composed mainly of interesting and helpful talks given by men in various professions. There were also meetings at which the group discussed school matters, social and life problems, and character. One very successful event on the calendar was the spring dance.

The officers during the 1927-1928 season were:

President: CHARLES BEEBE, of North Plainfield
Vice-President: JOSEPH N. MORRISON, of Plainfield
Secretary: VAUGHN MACKEY, of Plainfield
Treasurer: HAROLD CORNWELL, of North Plainfield

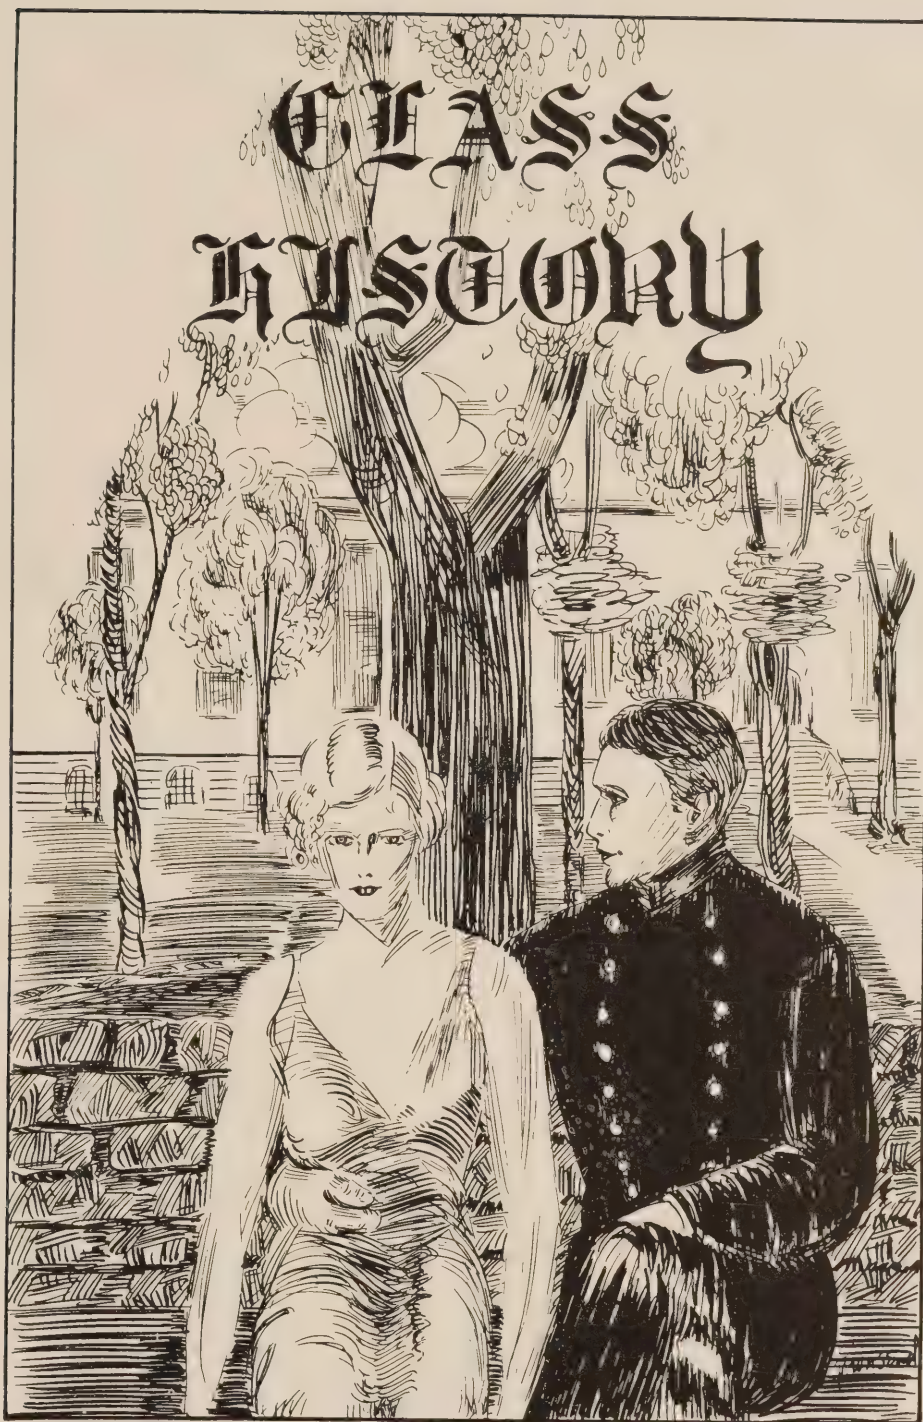

The officers elected by the club for next year are:

President: RICHARD HASSELL, of Plainfield
Vice-President: CARL RUGEN, of Plainfield
Secretary: RICHMOND BRADSHAW, of Plainfield
Treasurer: CHARLES WALZ, of Plainfield

They were installed with due ceremony at the last meeting of the club for this season, on Thursday, May 10, 1928.

The senior advisers, an indispensable factor in the club's success, were Mr. Pease, Mr. Bunk, and Mr. Zeek, of the Y. M. C. A., and Mr. W. C. Cook, of High School.

—JOSEPH N. MORRISON

I.

And now our four year cruise is o'er;
We've reached our port at last;
But let us think of days gone by,
Of deeds of the by-gone past.

Remember tender Freshman days,
We were but cabin boys;
And how the Seniors laughed at us,
At our young Freshmen joys.

Ah! We were young and innocent,
A sight to please the eye;
But now the kids are fresh and flip,
A plight to make one sigh.

When first we entered these great halls,
We silent were and meek;
They awed us; we stood silent
With the tongue stuck in the cheek.

But Freshmen can't stay silent long,
This truth is known of old;
For soon we all accustomed grew,
And even grew quite bold.

So we at once all got to work;
O, but we were wily;
We held our class elections,
Our president, Dick Riley.

We entered into high school life,
All full of pep and vim;
We animated all the school;
We put things into trim.

And so the year it sped along;
At last came 'xaminations,
And all around the school were heard
Prayers and weird lamentations.

Of course we liked our P. H. S.,
But still 'twas good to laze,
And rest and snooze and laze we did,
Our first vacation days.

II.

But all things calm must have an end,
This truth the wise men claim;
Our drowsing days were past and gone,
The busy school days came.

As Sophomores now how we had grown,
And oh! how grand we felt,
And scalps from off the Freshmen took,
And stuck them in the belt.

Again we held elections,
And we once more selected
The leader of our Freshmen days,
All seemed quite rose-complected.

And now all set we sailed along;
Our goal was far ahead,
We never let the sails slack down;
But tightened them instead.

We cut ice in athletics,
And oh! how bold our feat;
The girls won both in tank and court,
And the boys—the swimming meet.

III.

And so arrived our Junior year,
We found our hands were full;
'Twas far the hardest year we had;
We had to pull and pull.

We held our class elections;
And then our leader rose;
After many, many ballots
Joe Morrison we chose.

And so time gaily passed along;
We gained in honors all;
Our boys' team clearly vanquished
In the game of basketball.

In all but tennis our girls won,
And we felt full of pride;
'Twas then that we sailed well along;
At last we hit our stride.

Our class it gave a Junior Play;
Which quite the fancy took;
It gave us entertainment,
And swelled our pocketbook.

And then the annual cane rush came;
With confidence we were flush;
For the first time in nine long, long years
The Juniors won the rush.

And then the Seniors gave a roast,
They roasted and they stung.
And after they were through with us,
How our red ears had rung!

But after all they'd done to us,
We were kind indeed;
We took them down the stairs with us,
And gave them one grand feed.

And then we gave a snappy dance,
And it was grand, I trow;
And all the people came and tripped
On the light, fantastic toe.

IV.

And so we breezed right well along,
The home port seemed to near;
We sailed, the home stretch straight ahead,
It was our Senior year.

We held our class selections,
And—the votes collected
We found that for class president
Joe Morrison was elected.

The year was far the busiest
That we had ever had;
We worked like regular galley-slaves,
And sweat and sweat egad !!

At last came round the Junior Sting;
And how we made them roast;
We made them feel so miserable—
They were pale as ghosts.

Our girls excelled in all the sports
They cut some fancy quips;
In tennis, hockey, basketball
They won the championships.

And then came round the big event;
The Senior-Faculty game;
And after we were through with them
The faculty was quite tame.

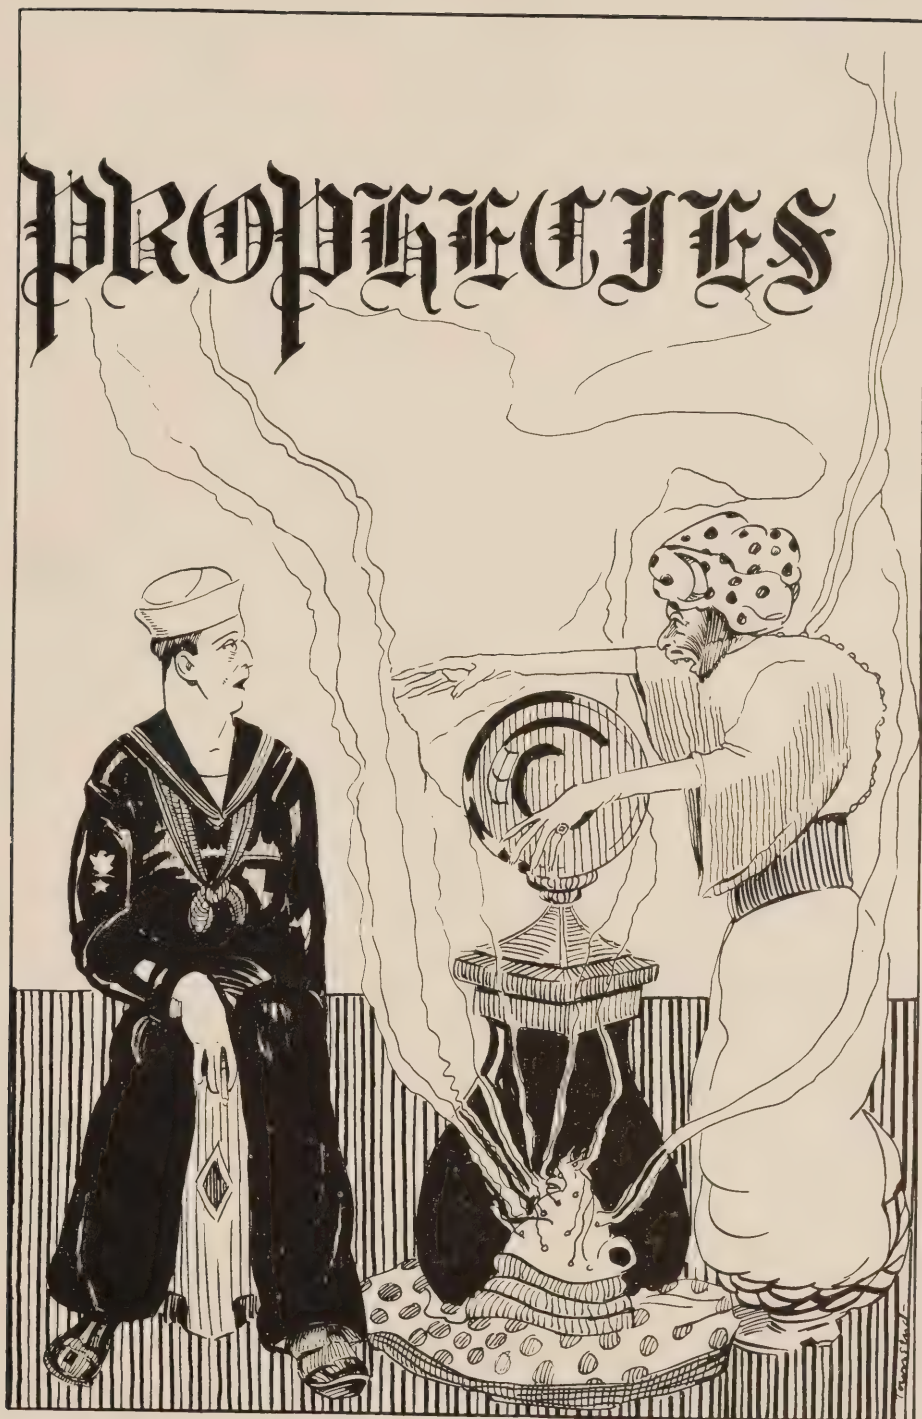

And then our class it gave a dance,
(The senior hop, to wit)
It was a howling, good success,
The very heights it hit.

And then we gave a Senior Play,
The best one seen in eons,
And all the multitude it came
To watch our Thespians.

And so at last our log-book ends,
The rest we leave to fate;
Our deeds are writ in records
Of the class of '28.

PROPHECIES

Prophecies

Bernard Angleman

Bernie will be a successful lawyer until he takes up "Bett"ing with some fair "Belle." But he will lose, and some "Jan"uary to start the year right he will cross the brook and form the firm of "Angleman" and "Powlison" Inc.

Katherine Koch

No matter how many "Bill's" Kay will get (and there are many) she will "Bob" up like a "Cork" every time. But be careful of too much "Spree'n," Kay, or you will be sorry.

De Hart Krans

Harty is a great football hero and a knight among the "Belle's" for he has read about h"Elaine." Harty attributes this power to having eaten "Campbell's" soup all his life. Although he is very "Ruth"less and has broken many hearts, Harty will some day "Neale" before the altar.

John Bicknell

Johnnie will "Bee" a window shade manufacturer when he leaves P. H. S. (We hope he will endow the Oracle room with one). Alas! Johnnie is changeable. He will soon become a "Miller." But having received a "Boone" he will seize the "Opportunity" and become a court jester with "Bells" on his toes and entice fair ladies with his "rose'y lips and straw "berrie" complexion.

Janet Miller

Janet's heart is going to be "Pierce"d, so she will found an organization of "brotherly" love and spend her time cooking "Johnnie" cakes for the brothers, and raising "Don"keys. Soon she will turn to botany, and invent a new "Herb" guaranteed to cure young love. Janet's last years will be merely "Orn"amented.

Myra Shotwell

Myra admits that she buys her clothes from a "Taylor" and declares that she "ne(e)d"s no advice from anyone. Myra will migrate to "Charles"ton and spend her time translating "Boswell"'s life of Johnson for the little Chinks.

Joe Morrison

There will be a big "Noyes" when Joe leaves P. H. S. In his "El"evated studies in college he will be most successful. After this he will be in "waite" behind a "Rhoad(d)s" bush to "Koch" (catch) the "Kay"ty-dids.

Roberta La Vie

When Dimmie leaves P. H. S. she will "Russell" around and brush up in her cooking. Then one day in despair, because she burned the biscuits, she will throw herself over a "Cliff" and "Zimmer" away.

Jane Williams

Jane will become a "Bud"ding young actress and startle Broadway with her new dance. But this will soon "Pete"r out, and Jane will "Russell" up to Massachusetts so as to be near "Amherst."

Lewis Morse

Lewis is going to be a great "Jean"ius and invent a new "Sis"tem (system) of gravity by which water will run up hill and call it the "Anderson" discovery.

Edith Naidorff

Edith vows she "Kahn" (can) and will do something "Worth" while before long. She will probably, if "Perry" approves and she has the "Jack," become a second Sarah Bernhardt and startle the world through her new play, "The Home that 'Jack' Built."

Vaughn Mackey

Vaughn will have many "Rhoads" to choose from, but he is going to imitate Lindbergh and become an indoor aviator in the Woolworth. We hope that he won't get absent-minded and shout "Short yell for the team," instead of "Going up."

Herbert Cragin

There will be a big "Jan"gle when Herb departs. He is going to acquire a Ford and dash over the country singing "waite for the wagon" at the top of his voice to let everyone know "Ione" the world. But, alas! Herb will finally settle down and marry a "Mill(in)er" and pose in the front window as a model.

Richard Riley

Dick is going to invent a new "Glass" hook so that the fish can't see it. Then he will spend his time "Bake(r)ing" on the bank of a stream fishing for "Herring."

William Taub

Too bad our Mr. Taub didn't live back in the days of Caesar. He would look so magnificent in flowing robes defying conscript fathers. However, he will enter the barber business and go on through the world with a grin as broad as the Atlantic and a tongue as eloquent as that of Caesar himself.

Elizabeth Egan

Sis will try in vain to catch a "Johnnie" or an "Eddie" or a "Bernie," but will only succeed with "Dans" and "Dons." So she will give up in "Des"pair and move to the Y. W. C. A. Soon, however, a handsome young man will come "Harry"ing along and kidnap Sis to Englewood.

Steve Hopkins

For a while Steve will trip the light "Fran"tastic round. But growing tired of "Boos(e)" and girls he will plunge into the ocean to swim around the world. After vainly trying to round Cape Horn, he will come to an ignominious death. Cheer up, Steve. We'll make a map of your route and put it in the library.

Eddie Hildum

Eddie, after lingering a "Moment"" in North Plainfield, will "Emma" grate to "Morris(t)own." Here while taking his license test he will be asked the question "Is a 'Bell' necessary on a bicycle?" Then he will say "No but a 'Bell' is necessary in my car."

Fred Wright

After having been twice taken for a High School Freshie and once having been offered a position in the circus as midget, Fred will grow desperate and resort to a diet of Fleischman's Yeast and Pet Milk to make him grow.

William Reed

Will is going to "Speed(o)" up and become an absent-minded professor at Yale, and teach Rhetoric. He will write a book on "Domestic Intimacy," but after a spat with his wife he will write one on "The Advantages of the Divorce Courts."

Helen McLaughlin

Helen, after graduating from college with all possible honors, will spend some years in translating the Aeneid into every conceivable language for the public good. Then she will become a famous congresswoman and insert a bill in the constitution prohibiting bobbed hair.

Kay Smith

After Kay leaves P. H. S. she will head for Colorado and "Range" on the prairies teaching wild geese how to do swan dives. Every year or so she will cross the Mississippi and journey to Camp Yokum where she will invent a machine to "Pres-cott" on hankies to be used by the camp girls in their art classes.

Benedict Bernstein

Benny, after burning much midnight oil in trying to become a "Poet," will give up in despair, take to writing advertising slogans such as "Bit O' Honey 99 per cent pure."

Eleanor Coward

When El graduates from P. H. S., she will immediately beat it for Canada. (She will there set up housekeeping, but will soon have her "Phil" (Philips) of "Bill's," and to be perfectly "Frank" soon another of those make "Joe"kers will "Hunt'er" out.

Emilio Desvernine

Emilio was "Caldwell" when they named him Orlando. He is a very romantic young lad. After several unsuccessful attempts to write sentimental poetry to blushing young Mis "Sis," he will become a traveling salesman. "Ann'a" nice young lady will darn his stockings for him.

Sophie Dickson

After "Soap" has conquered every sport in this universe, she will settle down to watch the rising of lesser stars, while impatiently waiting for the new sports in the next world.

Doris Rhoads

Doris "Shotwell" when she aimed at "Sid." When she completes her course at Katherine Gibbs, she will make a good secretary to a "Taylor" by keeping him in stitches all the time. Doris's favorite fish is "Macke(y)"rel and she loves to "Vau(g)nt" her opinoins.

Georgianna Bradbury

We hope Georgianna's library work will not be too "Bohren" (boring) after such a strenuous life. However, if she keeps her "'ed" (head) and doesn't recommend too many books on "Annapolis" cadets by the Professors "Mackey" and "Stevenson," we are sure she will be successful.

Evelyn Farland

"Evie" is going to move to the South Sea Isles where we hope it will be hot enough for her. She will make a great hit teaching the natives the Varsity Drag until "Rolf" comes down and drags her back to the U. S. A.

Benjamin Tepper

Ben is going to put his great dignity and politeness (ahem!!) to use when he leaves P. H. S. and becomes a floor walker. What a noble sight to see him towering over the crowd kindly directing timid young maids where to find the silk stockings and kissproof lipstick.

Eleanor Martin

Eleanor is going to found a great college some day in "Richmond." With her usual dignity and austerity we are sure she will sufficiently awe her young students.

Marjorie Lorentz

Marge has a "Will" of her own when it comes to her career. She will take instructions in "Art" from "Kurt." When her flivver is "Dunn" for, she will know "How" to "Jack" it up for herself.

William Spreen

Our dashing young Apollo attracts "Gidd"y young ladies they say. But in spite of his distinguished "Emma"nce, he will some day "Marge" (march) humbly under the casement of his heart's desire "K—K—K—'Kay"ty, you're the only girl—etc" at the top of his voice.

Virginia Boone

Danny likes "Hank"ies and will become "Rich" in the business. But she will not "Al"ways remain with us, for she, like other P. H. S. grads, is fond of our neighbors across the brook.

Frances Boos

Frances is going to "Hop" across the Atlantic to "Bart"er with English Dukes and Spanish Senores and to be on hand to "Bob" up on top of Gibraltar to wave to "Steve" as he thrashes past on his swim around the world.

Bart Viviano

Bart, when he leaves P. H. S., will migrate to "Tex"as and there in "a dell" (Adele) in the back woods will become a typical farmer and raise "Corn" (ie). In 1948 he will "Fran"tically try to "Boos"t a new bill for the extinction of the potato bug.

Mary Bond

We predict a great career for Mary. She will become world famous for her cello playing when she will grow tired of notoriety and flee to St. "Lewis" and there "Don" a wedding gown.

Ione Garthwaite

If Ione isn't "Haze"d too much at "Smith," she will "Ed"ify the college with her brilliance. However, she will soon be banished for flirting with other people's beaux. She will then retire and take to raising "Bill"y goats and "Herb"s.

Ormsbee Robinson

Ornie has great executive ability (ahem!) but he fails when it comes to managing the female sex, "Ann" when he graduates he will become a "Baker," "Ann" invent a new bread called "Pizzini" loaf baked on the "Moment," "Ann" when this fails, he will return to P. H. S.—as a "Jan"itor.

LAZARUS AND THE SCAMEN

Last Will and Testament

FOREWORD

While I was walking on my watch on the starboard deck of the good ship '28 one night, something very curious happened to me. It was at about eleven bells at night, everything was quiet except for the sonorous snores that came to me from below, and the soft lapping of the water about our hulls. The night was clear and cold with nary a breath of wind. Our ship stood placid, silhouetted, "a painted ship" in "a painted ocean." The moon looked down only on me in that whole vast expanse, and it threw a silvery path across the water. I shivered. It was a night for haunts. For four long years had I sailed that bonny vessel, and now for the first time I felt a little quaking, a fear, perhaps, of the unknown. I looked up at the star-speckled sky, unending and infinite, to see if I might read there something of the future—but in vain.

Suddenly I heard an eerie groan behind my back. My instinct of self-preservation was strong. I whirled like a flash to meet my assailant. There was a puff of smoke, a blinding flash of lightning in the clear sky, and I was hurled flat to the deck. From the puff of smoke, a wraith-like figure separated itself and drifted ghost-like to the ground. Quickly, however, it took on definite shape and appearance. This was nothing like the regulation ghost I had always heard and read of. This was one with whom I could have been a good friend. His rangy, well-set body was covered with a black slicker which could not hide the uprightness of the figure. Blue eyes, as deep as the sky above and as starry, looked at me from under a tarred northeaster, and I read, I imagined, a jovial fellowship. His straight aquiline nose, firm jaw and high forehead, gave one the impression of a firm and gentle character. His very presence helped me regain my composure. However, I was puzzled as to his identity. It did not seem possible that he could be a ghost. He was too much alive, too magnetic. I put up a bold front. "Who are you and what are you doing here?" I remarked.

He looked at me for a moment. Then, in a clear, low voice, he replied, "That is, indeed, a foolish question. When you first came to this ship as a mere cabin-boy, I came with you. For four long years I have lived in the heart of this ship. For four years I have guided its course. Through every storm I have piloted it through safety. I, it is, who has kept you and your mates at your posts during every period of trial, who has always brought the ship to port. And now my reign is ending. I am guiding you to the last harbor, and then I must scatter myself to the corners of the earth. But I shall never die! I shall never die!"

"Who are you?" I gasped.

Here the figure drew itself up proudly and answered solemnly, "I am the spirit of the class of '28."

"What do you want of me?" I quavered.

"I am placing in your hands a fearful trust. Be true to it!" Here he handed me a piece of oiled parchment. "Be true to your trust!" Suddenly there was a puff of smoke and he had vanished. I am weighted by the gravity of my trust. The document he handed me was meant for you! Here it is!

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT OF THE SPIRIT OF THE CLASS OF '28

Possessed of a mania for giving things away, and therefore not wholly sane, realizing that our rule is drawing to a close, we hereby bequeath all our property, real and unreal (of which there is plenty, i. e., Senior Privileges). In order that there may be no haggling or lawsuits over our estate after our er—er—demise (this is ghastly), we have definitely assigned everything that there is to assign.

We give—

I. To the faculty

The useless attempt of digging up such brilliant, nay scintillating students, as you have discovered among us.

Secundus: The memory of our noble (?) deeds.

Tertius: The right to hand our erstwhile textbooks back to the Juniors.

Quartus: To Mr. Burdick: a new derby.

Quintus: To Miss Moore: Thanks for Senior privileges.

Sextus: To Miss Bond: A new vanity case.

Septus: To Mr. Hauck: A bottle of good hair restorer.

Octavus: To Mr. Banta: Don't get "sca't t' death."

II. To the Juniors

Un. The memory of that cane rush and advice as to how to clean up the Sophomores next year.

Deux: Thanks for the entertainment afforded:

- a. As Freshman.
- b. At the cane rush.
- c. At the roast.
- d. At the feed and dance.

Trois: Senior privileges. (What's wrong with this sentence?)

Quatre: Our seats in chapel.

Cinq: The right to assume dignity, lordly manners, etc.

III. To the Sophomores

One: Advice on how to act like upper-classmen.

Two: Advice on how to take the stings at the roast gracefully.

IV. To the Freshmen

Einz: Advice on how to treat Freshmen.

Zwei: Advice on how to lose those "What's it all about" ways.

Drei: The hope that "you'll get there just the same."

Fuer: Assurance that we always feared you most of anyone.

V. To the coaches: The memory of such stellar athletes as Bart Viviano, John Siergiej, Bob Burgard and others, and condolences for having lost them.

VI. To P. H. S and all that's in it

Bon Voyage.

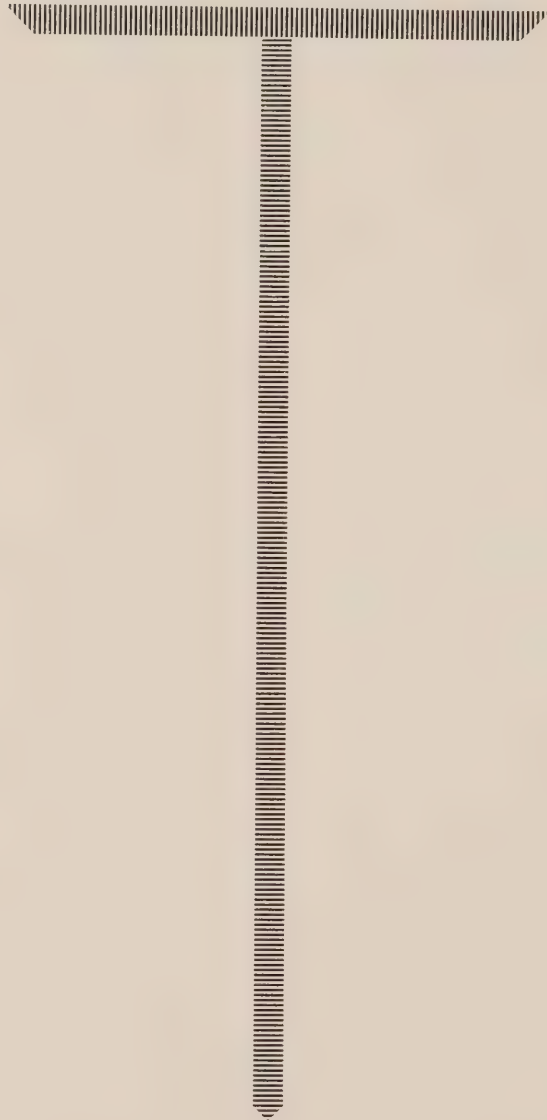

Signed—this eleventy-scathe day of the fourth annum of our cruise: by

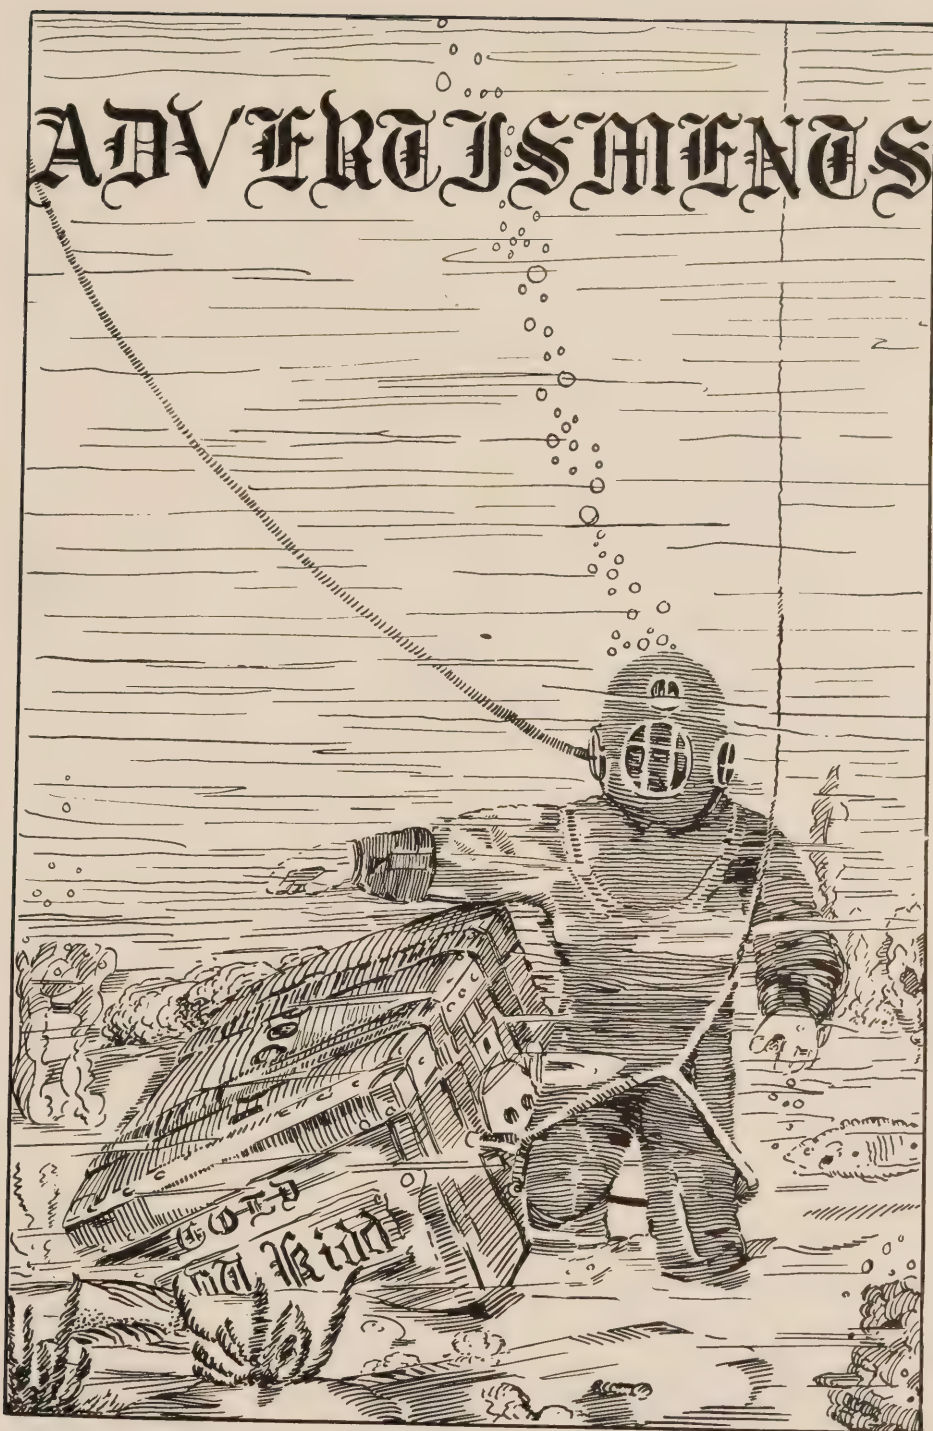

1. Comus and all his retinue.
2. Jack the Ripper.
3. Shades of Hades.
4. Long-tried, royal Odysseus.
5. E. Spencer Lopschils.

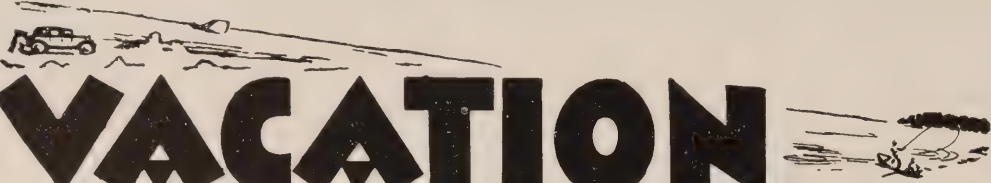

Attested to—by

1. Sally Moon (The Man in the Moon's wife).
2. Joe Whale.
3. Pete Waves.
4. Ike Masts.
5. Wotavu.
